

It appears that you are trying to increase the fee to obtain a vanity callsign in the Amateur Radio Service by about 12.4 percent. This is being done after you increased the fees last year. But the Federal Government says the cost of living has increased at a level much lower than your proposed increase.

I do not favor as large an increase as you are proposing, especially with more and more of the paperwork passing through the commission is computer input and seems to need no attention from commission personal.

Thank you for allowing me to input my comments in this manner.
